Will Northvolt build a lithium conversion plant in Portugal?

With electric vehicle (EV) sales surging across Europe, Swedish battery manufacturer Northvolt announced April 13 its intent, together with Lisbon-based multinational energy conglomerate Galp Energia, to construct a massive lithium conversion plant on Portugal's southern coast.

Does Portugal have a lithium supply chain?

Volkswagen also ships cars from Setubal, so much of the infrastructure was already there. But not everyone is happy about Portugal's increasingly big role in the lithium supply chain. Unconnected to Aurora, British company Savannah Resources plans to open Europe's biggest open-cast lithium mine in northern Portugal.

How many tons of lithium are there in Spain & Portugal?

The companies believe the area, home to 300,000 and 270,000 tons of respective lithium reserves in Spain and Portugal, offers the necessary tools to extract, concentrate, and convert the mineral with a limited footprint.

Will a 5 mW 20 MWh battery storage system be built in Portugal?

Galp, a Portuguese energy company, has announced plans to build a 5 MW/20 MWh battery storage system in Portugal, in collaboration with Powin. The system at one of Galp's solar plants will enable it to adjust its PV production profile and meet its energy requirements. This project marks Powin's first venture in Europe.

Why is a lithium refinery being built in Portugal?

Portugal has the largest proven reserves of lithium in Europe, which is why Aurora is there. The refinery will use Portuguese lithium as well as foreign imports from places like Australia (which, the company acknowledges, will contribute to the CO2 emissions associated with the venture).

Should Portugal invest in a lithium project?

The Aurora project should, de Sousa Martins says, encourage investment from other players into the lithium value chain in Portugal, "like cell production, gigafactories, recycling and, of course, more than anything, into the mining world".
